Fund Manager Comment
Market environment			Outlook
MENA equities, represented by the S&P Pan Arab Composite Large Midcap index gained 1.84% in the reporting month. Relative to global markets, Mena equities marginally outperformed MSCI World by 4 bps. On the global stage, equities advanced, supported by robust corporate earnings, reduced geopolitical tensions, and ongoing monetary support: the MSCI World Index rose by 2.02%, the S&P 500 gained 2.38%, and the MSCI Emerging Markets Index climbed 3.56%. The Bloomberg Commodity Index posted an increase of 2.56%, while Brent crude declined by 1.45%.			Mena equity markets outlook over the next couple of quarters will be driven primarily by the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) markets. From a markets perspective the GCC markets have shown resilience amid global volatility. Economic diversification away from dependency on oil will support investment into the private sector which will drive economic growth. Lower interest rate environment will further stimulate credit uptake that will enhance performance of the financial sector. A robust financial sector performance will bolster Mena equities performance due to the large sector exposure in the benchmark. Mena market fundamentals are undemanding with forward price earnings at 13. Improvement in the geopolitical situation is key to unlocking investor confidence to commit capital that could spur corporate earnings growth.
Portfolio performance
The fund underperformed its benchmark, primarily due to selection effects. The relative performance gains from stock selection in Qatar and Morocco markets were outweighed by negative contributions, most notably from the UAE and Saudi Arabia. From a sector perspective, Real Estate, Utilities, and Healthcare sectors positively contributed to the relative performance, which was offset by negative selection effects in the Communication Services Industrials, and Material sectors, which were the biggest contributors to negative relative performance.
